SARITA ORÉ QUISPE

+1 (609) 333 3916 | spo2111@tc.columbia.edu | saritaore.github.io

EDUCATION

Ph.D. in Economics and Education, Teachers College at Columbia University. May 2027
Committee: Alex Eble, Cristóbal Otero and Micaela Sviatschi.

Ph.D. visiting student, Princeton University. 2023–2025

M.A. in Economics, Universidad de los Andes. 2017

B.A. in Economics, Universidad Nacional Mayor de San Marcos. 2012

RESEARCH FIELDS

Primary fields: Development Economics, Economics of Education and Health

Secondary fields: Economics of Crime, Gender Economics

WORKING PAPERS

Incentives, Management, and Public Service Delivery: Evidence from a large field experiment in Peru

(Job Market Paper)

Governments often struggle to improve service quality when critical dimensions of effort are difficult to observe. This paper examines whether incentive design can address this challenge by strengthening management practices. I study two institutional incentive schemes applied to a municipal service delivery intervention aimed at reducing childhood anemia in Peru: a standard input-based contract and a mixed incentive contract conditioning rewards on both inputs and outcomes. Leveraging a clustered randomized controlled trial across 539 rural municipalities, I find that municipalities assigned to the mixed contract increased managerial intensity — strengthening monitoring, coordinating more actively with health facilities, and motivating frontline workers — leading to higher utilization of preventive health services and iron supplementation. Despite these improvements, the intervention did not generate short-run reductions in childhood anemia.

Gender-based violence in schools and girls' education: Experimental evidence from Mozambique

(joint with Sofia Amaral, Aixa Garcia-Ramos, Selim Gulesci, Alejandra Ramos, and Micaela Sviatschi)

Gender-based violence (GBV) at schools is a pervasive problem that affects millions of adolescent girls worldwide. In partnership with the Ministry of Education in Mozambique, we developed an intervention to increase the capacity of key school personnel to address GBV and to improve students' awareness as well as proactive behaviors. To understand the role of GBV on girls' education, we randomized not only exposure to the intervention but also whether the student component was targeted to girls only, boys only, or both. Our findings indicate a reduction in sexual violence by teachers and school staff against girls, regardless of the targeted gender group, providing evidence of the role of improving the capacity of key school personnel to deter perpetrators.

Spillover Effects of School Infrastructure Upgrade: Evidence from Peru

(joint with Fabiola Alba-Vivar)

This paper examines a school infrastructure upgrading program and its direct and indirect impacts on enrollment, school dropout rates, and student achievement. We exploit the program's rollout over four years before an abrupt redesign left some schools without the upgrade. Our findings suggest that schools receiving the upgrades experienced a 0.58 percentage point reduction in dropout rates. However, we observe spillover effects on nearby schools: an increase in private school closures and a decline in enrollment, predominantly affecting the public sector. Notably, reading test scores in nearby private and public schools also dropped, suggesting that the students leaving these schools were likely those with higher human capital.

SELECTED WORK IN PROGRESS

Staying in School: A Large-Scale RCT on Behavioral Interventions to Reduce Crime and Dropout in Peru (joint with Natalia Guerrero and Micaela Sviatschi)

Policing, Insecurity, and Human Capital: Experimental Evidence from Peru (joint with Isabel Hincapie and Daniela Paz)

Are Cash Transfer Conditionalities Still Important? Evidence from Colombia on Health Outcomes (joint with Bridget Hoffmann and Diego Vera)

POLICY WRITING AND REPORTS

The Impact of Home Visits on the Prevention and Reduction of Anemia in Peru (joint with Elmer Guerrero)

Itineraries of Private Education in Peru (joint with Ricardo Cuenca and Luciana Reátegui)

Child Violence and Domestic environment (joint with Úrsula Aldana, Patricia Ames, and Mercedes Crisóstomo)

Evolution of Territorial Inequality for Different Socioeconomic Indicators in Peru (joint with Úrsula Aldana)

FELLOWSHIPS AND GRANTS

Research Grant, JPAL Governance Initiative	2025 ($25,000)
Research Grant, CAF – Development Bank of LAC	2024 ($15,000)
Research Grant, The Weiss Fund	2021 (Co-I, $60,000), 2024 ($26,000)
Education Policy Dissertation Research Fellowship, EPSA	2024–2025
Zankel Fellowship, EPSA	2024–2025
Student Travel Grant, George Clement Bond Center for African Education	2024 ($500)
Student Research Grant, Center for Development Economics and Policy	2024 ($1,500), 2025 ($1,500)
Student Research Grant, EPSA	2022 ($1,500), 2023 ($1,500), 2024 ($2,000)
Doctoral Research Fellowship, Teachers College	2021–2025
Research Grant, GIZ-Mozambique	2021 (Co-I, $10,000)
Research Grant, UNICEF-Mozambique	2021 (Co-I, $110,000)
Research Grant, Princeton University – Education Overdeck	2020 (Co-I, $95,000)
Research Grant, Consortium for Economic Research	2019 ($25,000), 2022 ($25,000), 2024 ($25,000)
Best Graduate Paper, Center for Distributive, Labor and Social Studies in LAC	2015 ($1,000)

SEMINARS AND CONFERENCES

 including scheduled*

2026: Empirical Health Economics Workshop (EHEW2026); Advances with Field Experiments (AFE) Conference, LACEA Annual Meeting*.

2025: Pacific Conference for Development Economics (PacDev), El mundo rural en América Latina y el Caribe – CAF, RIDGE Forum Gender and Household Economics, Sociedad de Investigación Educativa Peruana – SIEP, LACEA Annual Meeting, APPAM's 47th Annual Fall Research Conference.

2024: The world at crossroads Conference – UNU WIDER, Conferencia Internacional de Desarrollo Económico – PUCP, Annual Workshop – CIES.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Teaching Assistant, Teachers College – CU: Economics of Education (Fall'22), Impact evaluation (Spring'23).

Teaching Assistant, Barnard College – CU: Econometrics (Fall'22), Health Economics (Spring'23).

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Research work

Inter-American Development Bank, Research Department	Aug 2025 – current
Columbia University, Community College Research Center	Oct 2023 – Aug 2025
World Bank, South Asia Gender Innovation Lab (Sofia Amaral)	Jul 2023 – Aug 2023
Princeton University (Prof. Micaela Sviatschi)	Feb 2018 – Aug 2021
World Bank, Development Research Group (Lelys Dinarte)	Feb 2021 – Aug 2021
Universidad de los Andes (Prof. Juan S. Galán and Prof. Guillermo Perry)	Oct 2016 – Dec 2017
Princeton University (Prof. Micaela Sviatschi)	Sep 2015 – Jan 2016
Instituto de Estudios Peruanos (Úrsula Aldana)	Apr 2013 – Mar 2014
University of California, Berkeley (Prof. Stanislao Maldonado)	Dec 2012 – Mar 2013

Other work

Ministry of Economy and Finance, Dept. of Quality Public Expenditure	Aug 2018 – Jan 2020
Ministry of Development and Social Inclusion, Dept. of Monitoring & Evaluation	Oct 2014 – Jul 2015

SKILLS

Software & Tools: Stata, R, LaTeX, Qualtrics, SurveyCTO.

Language: Spanish (native), English (fluent), Portuguese (fluent).

Citizenship: Peruvian.

REFERENCES

Alex Eble
Associate Professor
Teachers College at Columbia University
eble@tc.columbia.edu

Cristóbal Otero
Assistant Professor
Columbia Business School
c.otero@columbia.edu

Micaela Sviatschi
Associate Professor
Princeton University
msviatschi@princeton.edu

Samuel Berlinski
Principal Economist
Inter-American Development Bank
samuelb@iadb.org